Notification

Dear Employer,

The Foreign Worker Tenant Enquiry Service (FWTES) allows homeowners to verify the particulars of work pass holders staying at their residential properties, and de-register those who are no longer staying there.

Employers of work pass holders can use FWTES to check on the occupancy of a residential property before entering into a tenancy agreement. You may wish to liaise with the homeowner to check on the existing occupants and de-register the work pass holders who are no longer staying there.

6. Select the check box and Click Continue

I understand and agree to the following:

1. Registrations of addresses in OFWAS shall not be interpreted as the Ministry accepting the registered premises as being "acceptable accommodation".
2. I have read the rules and regulations and I am authorised by my client/company to perform the transactions in OFWAS.
3. MOM has come across cases of employers registering HDB flats as their foreign workers' residential addresses in OFWAS, but the foreign workers are not staying in the flats. To address this, employers are now required to make sure that the workers are registered as subtenants in HDB's subletting system and are staying in the flats, before the addresses can be registered in OFWAS.
